WILL FIRE SALUTE IN MORNING

Saturday To Mark Opening Of Putnam County Red Cross Drive

The American Legion Armistice day celebration will start at 7 o'clock tonight with a parade of decorated trucks and cars led by the Greencastle Legion band. The route will be over many of the principle streets of the city and will be featured by fireworks.

The parade will end at Elms Inn where the members will have their annual turkey dinner and the losers of the recent air circus ticket sales contest will be forced to eat beans. An unusual entertainment has been arranged by the program committee, and is being kept secret from all other members. About 150 members are expected to attend. The dinner this year is open only to members of the Legion in good standing.

A firing squad from the local Legion post will fire the usual salute at the statue of the American Doughboy and flags at the monument will call attention to those boys from Putnam county who lost their lives in the World War.

Armistice day will open the official drive for funds by the Putnam County chapter of the American Red Cross which will continue until Thanksgiving day.

Due to the fact that Armistice day falls on Saturday the day will not be generally observed by closing of stores, barber shops and other places of business.

CALIFORNIA REPORTS TWO KIDNAPINGS

RANSOM OF $40,000 DEMANDED BY CAPTORS OF UNIVERSITY GRADUATE

MAN AND WIFE ABDUCTED

Brooke Hart, 22, Kidnaped At San Jose. Couple Believed Marked For Death.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 10, (UP)—Brooke Hart, 22, Santa Clara university graduate and son of a prominent San Jose merchant, was held by kidnapers today for $40,000 ransom.

"We have your son and want $40,000 for him. Don't get in touch with police or you will never see your son again," the message said, according to police.

Disregarding the warning, Hart called police. The call was traced to a San Francisco hotel.

The youth's automobile was found early today northwest of San Jose on a county road, headlights burning. Federal, county and state officers joined local authorities in the hunt.

The kidnaped youth left the store yesterday afternoon to meet his father at the San Jose country club. The Hart family said that several weeks ago several men in an automobile tried to crowd Brooke's machine into the curb, then chased him. The affair was not reported to the police at the time.

Mrs. Hart was prostrated by her son's disappearance. A doctor was called to attend her.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10, (UP)—George Gleixner, a bootlegger, and his wife were kidnaped by three men after a gun battle at Trona, small desert town in San Bernardino county, the Los Angeles county sheriff's office was notified today.

Sheriff's Deputy Ed Durant at Trona reported the couple was seized early last night, and thrown into a large dark sedan which disappeared in the direction of Randsburg, Kern county. The car was believed heading toward Los Angeles.

Authorities feared the victims may have been marked for death. Durant said Gleixner operated a small bootlegging establishment. The sheriff's office broadcast a description of the car and occupants.

One of the smaller industries in Greencastle that is gradually increasing the use of its product because it is one of the best made, is that of Walter Sublett, who is manufacturing moisture proof burial vaults. Mr. Sublett has perfected a vault that is absolutely water proof. He gave a practical demonstration of his product at the factory on north Indiana street Thursday. It was not buried below the freezing line, but was subjected to all the elements. It was also under the eaves of the factory, catching much surface water, but when it was taken up Thursday the interior was perfectly dry as was testified to by a dozen men who saw it come up.

A warrant for Woods was taken to Indianapolis early Friday by Sheriff Alva Bryan and LaRue.

RED CROSS IN ACTION

The following letter was received by Mrs. Frank Donner, chairman of the Putnam county Red Cross chapter, from Mrs. A. T. Briggs, chairman of the local board of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church:

"Dear Mrs. Donner: "Having seen the Red Cross in active service after the earthquake in Long Beach, March 10, convinces me that there should be universal support of this organization.

"We have always been told that the Red Cross goes where there is suffering and misery to minister to, in the name of common humanity. We have always been told that the Red Cross knows no race, no creed, or no political boundaries.

"Being told and seeing are two different things. Here was a city in sorrow. Many dead, many wounded, many homeless, and everyone with shattered nerves. A city without gas, light, heat, and even without water for a time; a city visited by death, disaster and devastation.

"Like the Good Samaritan, the Red Cross, assisted by kindred organizations took control of affairs and brought order out of chaos.

"The manner in which it fed the multitudes, cared for the dying, gave relief to the helpless, was a fine demonstration of this organization in action—showing energy that was untiring, supervision most competent, and service most complete.

"Who would not be happy to have a membership in the Red Cross, who knows no race, no creed, no political boundaries, and who serves needy mankind the world over?

"Please accept my dollar.

"Lenore A. Briggs."

DEATH TOLL GROWING IN CUBAN WAR

HAVANA IN STATE OF SIEGE BY ORDER OF CUBAN PRESIDENT

ANOTHER REVOLT FEARED

All Inhabitants Of City Advised To Stay Indoors Following Bloody Outbreak

HAVANA, Nov. 10, (UP)—President Grau San Martin today issued a military order declaring all Havana in a state of siege, and advising all inhabitants to remain out of sight.

Havana, with its morgues, hospitals and jails jammed, emerged today from its fourth blood bath in four months, and waited with tense nerves for signs of another revolutionary outbreak.

Americans were anxious. Reports that rebels had threatened to sack American property were denied—but last night nurses, smelling smoke, found a small fire in the basement of the British-American hospital. An orderly quickly put it out. Someone had attached a lighted fuse to two bottles of gasoline and sprinkled gasoline over the floor.

Until dawn today searchlights played eerily over the capital's rooftops, seeking airplanes that might herald another revolt. Troops guarded government buildings, barracks, and police stations and patrolled the streets watchfully. The crack of a rifle shot was heard occasionally.

Unofficial estimates listed 150 dead in yesterday's Atares fortress fight in which government troops suppressed the latest abortive revolt against President Ramon Grau San Martin. Hundreds of wounded were in hospitals. Appeals were broadcast for volunteers for blood transfusions.

At Emergency hospital alone were 37 dead and 132 wounded. It was feared that an official check, if made, would prove the casualties than now calculated.

Between 700 and 1,000 participants in the most recent revolt were added to political prisoners already overcrowding jails and fortresses in and around the capital.

As in previous outbreaks, combatants and non-combatants suffered alike. The combatants once fought side by side with government leaders against Gerardo Machado, the deposed dictator.

Former allies of Grau in opposition to Machado outnumbered in the jails, former Machadistas held for prosecution.

There were poignant scenes today when scores of women visited the morgues, hunting among the dead for husbands, sons, brothers or sweethearts.

Some of those missing and still living were awaiting the chance to participate in another revolt, for opposition leaders reaffirmed their determination to continue their campaign.

Peace With Honor
Hitler's Demand

GERMANS NOT BOOTBLACKS FOR OTHER NATIONS SAYS FIERY CHANCELLOR

BERLIN, Nov. 10, (UP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, addressing millions of his countrymen in a giganticly conceived loud speaker hookup, demanded peace with honor and equality today, and shouted of his withdrawal from the disarmament conference.

"Germans are not bootblacks for other nations! Either equal rights or no conference!" Traffic throughout the country, and pedestrians on streets, halted for a minute as Hitler began speaking at a factory near Berlin, to a visible audience of workmen.

Loud speakers in factories, shops, office buildings and schools all over the country, and 3,000 loud speakers here in streets and subway stations relayed the chancellor's speech.

He said that Germany was not warmed but peace-minded, and that he himself—a veteran of four years of World war fighting—would be med if he wanted war. He had said nothing in his nine months in office, he insisted, to hurt other nations; all Germans wanted, he said, was understanding.

"We do not meddle in other people's affairs," shouted Hitler. "Others should leave us alone."

"Others say they feel menaced. If anyone is menaced, we are. We have buried the hatchet with our foreign enemies. They do not believe us. But what can I do? What should I do to make them believe me?"

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK
November 6-12, 1933

Your Child's School

Did you ever stop to think what the life of your child would be like without the common school? How he would spend the long days, where he would play, what friendships he would make, what influences would mold his young personality, how his faith in himself and human nature would be affected by a thoughtless world, how he would make that important transition from the simple life of the family to the more complicated life outside, where he would learn not only to read, to write, and to cypher but the thousand and one other matters that determine his ability to get on in the world? Would you be willing to undertake this task yourself? Your child's school represents you. It seeks to do for all the children what the best and wisest parents would do for their children had they the time and the talent.

The school provides a safe physical and mental environment for your child. The modern school is housed in a clean comfortable building with proper light, heat, and ventilation; seats that encourage correct posture; sanitary toilets and wash rooms.

Physical inspection discovers defects and helps to overcome them through medical treatment and corrective exercise. Playfields and gymnasiums encourage healthful recreation. The school teaches correct health habits. It protects against contagious diseases. It provides special care for the undernourished, special classes for handicapped children, and encourages healthful diet through well-balanced meals. The school creates appreciation for health as a foundation of happiness and a vital common enterprise of the race. Health is the first wealth.

The school is preparing your child for the responsibilities and privileges of citizenship. By taking part in the simple relationships of the school he comes to understand the spirit of fairness, justice, intelligence, and goodwill. He learns the importance of honesty and cooperation. He learns to subordinate his selfish interest to the needs and wishes of others. He learns the history of his country. The nation's founders become his heroes. He studies the principles upon which the nation is built. His attention is called to important economic and social problems. He learns to gather and weigh facts. He learns to respect the property and rights of others. He develops the spirit of good sportsmanship, he learns to take responsibility, and to obey established rules. He learns to be loyal to common ideals and purposes.

Let no one tell you that democracy has failed. It is precisely at those points where the American system is least democratic—where it least reflects the ideals and homely virtue of the common people—that the breakdowns have come. Our schools are the greatest contribution of democracy to civilization. Into them we have drawn nearly one person in four of our total population. These schools are intelligent, honest, efficient to a degree that is true of no other business of like magnitude. Were all other business as well managed as democracy's schools, America would move forward to a new level of achievement and glory. The future of democracy and the future of the common school are one and inseparable. Let them go forward and upward together. What the school is today democracy will be tomorrow.

"In times like these, invest in boys and girls. Men talk about buying stock at the bottom. When you invest in a boy or girl you are always buying at the bottom. You are sure that the youngster is going up, and there is no telling how far. I invite every man and woman in America to take a flyer in Childhood Preferred. I predict a great future for this security. It has investment merit combined with the most exciting speculative possibilities. You are sure to get a man or a woman; you may get a great man or a great woman."—Bruce Barton.

Push Plans For Loans On Corn

RFC TO LEND MORE THAN $150,000,000 AT RATE OF 45 CENTS PER BUSHEL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. — The Roosevelt administration acted today to get $150,000,000 into the corn belt by Christmas under a new corn loan plan for farmers.

Secretary Wallace announced that loans will be made on corn warehouses on farms at the rate of 45 cents a bushel irrespective of the distance of the farms to market. The loans will go to farmers who join the farm administration's production control plan and agree to reduce corn acreage 20 per cent and hog production 25 per cent during the next year.

The Commodity Credit Corporation will make the loans with funds supplied by the reconstruction corporation.

In states where there are farm warehouse acts, the loans will be on the security of corn in sealed bins on farms, while in states without such laws the loans will be made where the corn is placed in a public bonded warehouse.

December corn closed yesterday at Chicago at 48 7/8 cents, 1 3/4 cents up from Wednesday. The price on the average farm, after allowing for freight and handling charges, was approximately 41 cents a bushel. The loan value being placed on corn under the new plan is, therefore, at a rate of about 4 cents over the market value of that corn on farms today.

Wallace abandoned previous corn loan plans in preparing the new one, which was one of several steps supplementing the $350,000,000 corn-hog production control program designed to meet complaints from the middle west that farm relief under the administration's program has been slow.

It is estimated that for Iowa alone, where nearly one-fifth of the nation's corn is produced and which leads in both acreage and average yields for the crop, the loan program will make available about $45,000,000. This was based on an estimate that Iowa farmers would make loans on about 20 per cent of their crop.

However, it was learned that the reconstruction corporation is prepared to advance more than the $150,000,000 which was committed for the program today.

Some farm officials estimated that $200,000,000 in loans may be sought by the producers, and that the government is prepared to meet all applications for loans even if the figure should be exceeded in the aggregate of applications.

The first corn loan program announced provided for loans based on 50 cents a bushel for No. 2 December corn f. o. b. Chicago. This meant that the loan value of farmers' corn decreased in proportion to the distance he lived from Chicago and that the value also would be dropped in cases where his corn fell below grade 2.

Corn grades are based largely on moisture content and new corn is heaviest in moisture content and for most of the corn belt rarely grades higher than No. 3 or No. 4.

The new plan contemplates disposing of the grading problem in a new way.

The "loans will be made on a basis of 45 cents per bushel on the farm with adjustment of cubic measure per bushel to allow for variations in moisture content," Wallace's announcement said.

"The change will permit a higher average loan value on farm-stored corn than would otherwise have been obtained. The plan now is very comparable to the basis of the cotton loans."

Details of the cubic measure plan are being settled under the direction of H. A. Laird, Boone, Iowa, and William Bradley of the adjustment administration.

They expect that corn grading as Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 ordinarily will come within the classification as "merchantable."

The area in which farmers will be eligible for loans comprises all of the three states of Iowa, Indiana and Illinois and those parts of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Ohio, and Wisconsin where corn is a major crop.

JAMESTOWN MAN FOUND DEAD IN BARN NEAR HOME
JAMESTOWN, Nov. 10.—David H. Shockley, 81 years of age, was found dead in the barn on his farm one mile east of here Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. He was found by Ivan Scott. Death was attributed to heart failure as he had been in failing health for the past year.

Scott, who was husking corn on the Shockley farm, had gone to the house to ask a question and was told to go to the barn to see Mr. Shockley when the body was found. Mr. Shockley had not been able to be out of the house since last Sunday until Thursday afternoon when he decided to walk out to the barn.

He was prominently known and highly respected throughout Boone county. He was a director of the Jamestown Citizens Bank, and was the auditor of Boone county from 1900 to 1904. He was a member of the Jamestown Christian church.

Putnam county hunters took to the woods Friday as the quail and rabbit seasons opened the same day. Although the law officially opens the rabbit season on Saturday, game wardens have received instructions not to arrest rabbit hunters who opened the season a day earlier.

Rabbit and quail hunters shooting off their own premises must carry a state license for hunting. The bag limit for quail is 15 a day while the bag limit for rabbits is 10 a day.

Reports from various parts of the county indicate that both quail and rabbits are plentiful this year.

BEHIND THE SCENES in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Little Janet Snowden, visiting old heires, wanted to feel an earthquake, but when she got a mild one she promptly moved out of her hotel and has taken a bungalow in the hills. She'll stay in Hollywood two months now and Jack La Rue still seems to be the favored swain.

An RKO troupe which has watched two polar bears pacing back and forth in their narrow cages, panting with the heat, is today singing the praise of Francis Lederer. The Czechoslovakian star has brought the bears from the studio and will ship them back to Alaska to be freed on their native icefields.

This human gesture is costing Lederer $500 plus the cost of shipment.

It is solving for RKO the problem of how to dispose of the animals, which were bought in St. Louis for $2400 and brought to Hollywood to be used in Lederer's picture, "A Man of Two Worlds."

Had the star not intervened, the "cold-loving animals were destined for some Southern California zoo."

They'll tell you that the big blowup has come on the Marjorie King-George Raft romance. She started to the United Artists theatre with George Thursday night to make a personal appearance, but the two didn't arrive there together, and Marjorie showed up later at the Colony Club with Winslow Felix. Unfortunately, she showed up later at the Colony and there was quite a glaring contest. And Marjorie had a date last night to go to the Beverly Wilshire with Bernie Topitsky.

Other Hollywood stars dabble with speedy motors, but Chick Chandler will drive an exhibition race at Ascot Speedway, November 12. Later in the month, probably on the 26th, he plans to enter regular competition on the track.

Earlier in his career, the young RKO player was a well known dirt-track driver in the East.

The Paramount school-teacher has postponed her report to give Maria Sieber another chance to come in for instruction, but Marlene Dietrich laughs at the idea. The German star says that Maria has a regular tutor, that she actually worked only 2 hours that day on the set and that the child is through with acting anyway.

QUICK GLIMPSES

If Dorothy Lee goes on that musical comedy tour, husband Marshall Duffell probably will resume his course in law school. Mary Pickford and Thornton Wilder have nearly finished a story in collaboration.

Two single-minded officers insisted on carrying Victor Jory to the Pasadena jail and kept him there until his attorney showed up with the cash bail for a two-months-old speeding charge.

Jean Corners, new RKO starlet, refused to wear a negligee in her first picture, and is now out of the cast.

So many sightseers knocked at Jack Gilbert's gate that the star has had to remove the address numbers.

Still lonesome for Hollywood Leslie Howard called up from London the other evening to inquire about his namesake, Leslie Howard Gargan.

Albert, former head waiter at the Coconut Grove, will now assist Steve, maitre d'hotel at the Beverly Wilshire.

Clark Gable is looking over ranches in the San Fernando Valley.

And despite her plea and offer of reward, Miriam Jordan never got back her engagement ring, which she lost on the way to Hollywood.

DID YOU KNOW—

That Ernest Schoedsack, co-director of "Chang" and "Grass" once actually saw the Equator? While he was on one of his exhibitions, a tide-wave, by some strange phenomena of nature, raced directly along the Equatorial line.

QUAIL AND RABBIT SHOOTING STARTS FRIDAY

Liquor Revenue Now Main Issue

FEDERAL AGENTS REPORT SALES OPERATING OPENLY IN MANY CITIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A disposition to concentrate on revenues from liquors was indicated today by federal officers as the policy that would govern their actions between now and the effective date of repeal of the 18th amendment.

At the same time, it was made clear that prohibition agents would concentrate their activities on the rounding up of big bootleggers and racketeers.

The drive for collection of revenues would bring federal agents into action along the line that their duties will pursue after repeal becomes effective on Dec. 5. This would include an endeavor to collect revenues from moonshine distillers.

The policy upon which federal officers were said to have agreed would direct their activities toward collecting revenues from liquor instead of prosecuting small offenders.

In many cities of the country, saloons have been opened wide to all comers. If such a policy as was outlined were followed closely, it would put federal officers on the trail of revenues from the liquors sold and after the big liquor handlers rather than setting them on the operators of small liquor selling establishments.

The policy was outlined at about the same time that President Roosevelt went into a meeting with a special committee of cabinet officers to fix government policy on a multitude of questions affecting repeal.

The president and his conferees agreed to a minor modification of the ban on imports to permit a replenishing of medicinal liquor between now and the repeal of prohibition next month. No definite amount was fixed on imports but the figure 250,000 gallons was mentioned.

The conference agreed to ask for only "a moderate tax" on liquors after repeal to discourage bootlegging and also favored liberal allowances of distillers licenses immediately so that whisky and wine might be manufactured. The group was also disposed to favor lighter taxes on wines and beers in an effort to encourage their sale as against hard liquors.

The conference considered placing control over whisky production and distribution under the beverage division of the farm administration.

Definite decisions arrived at the conference, which was reported as a general canvassing of the situation, were not made public.

"The spirit is to have efficient procedure under repeal which will discourage and make profitable the activities of bootleggers," Attorney General Cummings said.

In the meeting were representatives of the state, treasury, commerce, agriculture and justice departments.
